A Flexible Choice of Options

We understand that every customer has different technology and business goals. That's why we offer a flexible choice of options:

- Detailed Discovery and Analysis: This includes upgrading, executing, profiling, and analyzing maps and process designs in production. Depending on your environment, this phase can be conducted from a remote location via Web conferencing. This helps reduce travel expenses and the time required for the Analysis phase. Results will be fully documented by Pervasive and delivered as a complete presentation.
- Rapid Implementation: This phase implements and tests the enhancements as determined by the Discovery and Analysis Phase. We perform the upgrade implementation in stages determined by you, so you get the support you need as you need it. Implementation support can also include pre-production audits, performance tuning, and complete process walk-through.
- Full Knowledge Transfer and Training: Experienced trainers will perform hands-on training either on-site or at Pervasive headquarters at Austin, Texas. Training is delivered in a variety of formats and timelines, based on your needs.
